The country has lost one of its greatest agricultural benefactors in the passing of Dr. S. A. Knapp, who died at Washington a short time ago. For years he had been one of Secretary Wilson's able lieutenants in the line of bringing in a better era of agriculture. He had made many trips to countries in the far east for things that might be raised with benefit here. For several years past he had also had the direction of the agricultural extension work in the southern states, by means of which new and valuable crops have been introduced and the area of others extended and model farms established, where a rational type of agriculture has been demonstrated, showing the possibility of a restoration of soil fertility and an increase in crop yields. The service he has rendered in the last named field alone in proclaiming the "better way" can never be fully estimated.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Two Addresses to be Made from Rostrum in Cemetery on Memorial Day. Both Speakers Men of Note. Patriotic Orders in Uniform.

The committee in charge of Memorial Day arrangements has all the preliminary details completed and announces that the program for the day will be much the same as in years past with the exception that instead of only one speaker at the rostrum at the cemetery there will be two, each of whom will make a brief address.

The two speakers will be Colonel Emerson, of Los Angeles, California, and Rev. Dr. Hill, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church, New York City. Both speakers are men of prominence and are said to be exceptionally eloquent orators. Colonel Emerson is now traveling in the East. Dr. Reed, President of Dickinson College, is largely responsible for the securing of these two men and the Post feels that an excellent selection has been made.

The parade and strewing of flowers will take place as usual. A feature of the parade this year will be the presence in line of the degree teams of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and the Order of Independent Americans. Both teams have handsome uniforms and have never yet taken part as uniformed bodies in a Memorial Day parade here since purchasing their suits.

The committee from the Grand Army Post having Memorial Day arrangements in charge consists of Hon. William T. Ziegler, Dr. T. C. Billheimer and A. H. Walker.

ORRTANNA

Orrtanna, May 16—William Baumgardner, wife and family, of Bendersville, are circulating among friends of town.

Edward Ansegruber and Clayton Goodermuth, of Gettysburg, visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Goodermuth over Sunday.

Mrs. Mollie I. Beard, of Gettysburg, spent Sunday among friends of this place.

Mrs. Grace Horner and daughter, Margaret, of West Chester, New Jersey, are spending a few weeks at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson.

W. S. Dutta has had the appearance of his farm greatly improved by giving the house a coat of paint.

A. H. Keady, wife and daughters, Olive and Pauline, Mrs. J. C. Baumgardner and daughter, Mildred, were automobile guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Herring on Sunday.

Roland Biggs has had some papering done by W. S. McCreary, of Fairfield.

Monday morning while our village blacksmith, Grant Funt, was shoeing a horse for H. Cover he had a small bone fractured in his right foot, also the ligaments badly strained. The horse became frightened and Mr. Funt was thrown under the animal. Dr. Trout was summoned and gave necessary attention.

Quite a number from this vicinity attended the show at Gettysburg today.

APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT

Dr. L. L. Sieber, has just closed his season of evangelistic work. He has conducted eleven series of services, speaking almost daily since November 1st. He has recently been appointed by the Maryland State Anti-Saloon League as district superintendent of the Western Maryland District which comprises five counties, Washington, Frederick, Montgomery, Allegany and Garrett counties. Dr. Sieber will have his headquarters at Hagers town where a well equipped office is provided for him. His family will remain here.

CONGRESSMAN SPEAKS

Hon Thomas L. Reilly, congressman from Connecticut and mayor of Meriden, that state, was here this week with Mrs. Reilly and spent several days touring the battlefield. Monday afternoon Mr. Reilly addressed the class in political science at college. Mr. Reilly has spent twenty years in newspaper work in connection with the Connecticut legislature; he has served several years as a member of the Connecticut House of Representatives and is now serving his first term as congressman.

BIDS FOR NEW POSTOFFICE

In today's Times there appears the advertisement for bids for the erection of the new government building at this place. All bids must be in by June 27 at 3 p. m. and it is expected that the contract will be let soon afterward.

The public schools closed for the morning session at ten o'clock in order to allow the children to see the parade.

MAY GO AFTER ENCAMPMENT

Grand Army Encampment can be Secured for Gettysburg for Next Year. Funds Must be Collected by Other than Usual Parties.

"Gettysburg can have the State Grand Army encampment for next year for the asking," said a Gettysburg citizen this morning who has had much to do with efforts toward securing various conventions and other similar attractions for the town in years past. "But the task of soliciting the necessary funds must fall upon the people who will reap the most benefit from such an event."

"Last year several of us went to Harrisburg and tried to get the meeting of the Grand Army for this June. Scanton won on a request that one more encampment should be held there and we were assured that this year Gettysburg would be given the vote."

"The local Grand Army post will not invite the veterans to come here in 1912 unless the necessary funds are guaranteed. With these secured the invitation will be extended and the encampment is practically assured."

"The last time the Grand Army met here Gettysburg's share of the expenses amounted to $450, made up of the cost of a meeting place, badges etc. It would be the same for next June. Those who have gone about town soliciting money in the past will positively not do it again as they have met with many rebuffs and unpleasant experiences and, if the invitation is to go out for the G. A. R. in 1912, the people who would make the money from the encampment will have to secure the funds."

This year's encampment is at Scanton the first week in June.

COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

The old custom of having ten members of the graduating class at Gettysburg College give orations on Commencement day has been done away with and this year, instead of these orations, there will be an address to the class by the Rev. Frederick H. Knobel, of New York City. Rev. Mr. Knobel graduated from college in the class of 1893. Following the address the graduating exercises and conferring of degrees will take place.

The college orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for commencement week.

The week opens Sunday morning, June 4, when the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Jeremiah Zimmerman, of Syracuse, New York. The address before the Y. M. C. A. will be delivered in the evening by Rev. Dr. A. E. Wagner of Altoona, Monday evening of Commencement week there will be the usual concert by the college musical clubs.

Tuesday there will be the meeting of the Board of Trustees, the Junior oratorical contest for the Reddig prize; class day exercises and the president's reception.

Wednesday the graduating exercises followed by the alumni collation in examination hall.

SHOW DAY IN GETTYSBURG

Mighty Haag Shows in Gettysburg for Afternoon and Evening Performances. Give Parade. Shows Clean and Worth Seeing.

The Mighty Haag shows, baby camel, calliope, toy balloons, peanuts and "red" lemonade together with the great big attractions—the menagerie, side show and main tent occupied the attention of the small boy and pretty nearly everybody else in Gettysburg today.

It was circus day in the borough and from daybreak on crowds from the town and nearby thronged the circus grounds and watched operations and events about the canvas covered "city." The train arrived here from Carlisle about three o'clock and backed in on the College siding where the unloading was begun soon afterward.

The usual number journeyed out through the dusty cinder road to watch the operation and saw the usual circus system carried out. One heavy wagon after another rolled off the flat cars and were quickly taken by the heavy gray teams to the circus grounds at the end of South Washington street. The big menagerie animals were unloaded among the last and after taking a few bits of lawn for its morning repast the sacred ox became rather lively and once or twice got under the boys who were showing undue curiosity.

And then the parade. The Haag shows present a very creditable parade and one which is a good advertisement for the show proper. No attempt is made to present "the greatest show on earth" but it is a first class one ring, two platform circus. The side show is above the ordinary and the show itself is excellent. The Japanese troupe, the wire work and usual other circus numbers are carried out to the entire satisfaction of the crowd. The show is clean throughout and the "Mighty Haag" lived up to the reputation which he earned here last year. "A good, clean, aggregation where everyone gets his money's worth."

DOG QUARANTINE IN ADAMS COUNTY

Farms along Route of Travel of Mad Dog Quarantined by Representative of State Livestock Sanitary Board.

A notice for a general quarantine for rabies against dogs in York, West, East and South York, boroughs of Hanover, New Salem and Spring Grove and townships of Manchester, Springfield, West Manchester, North Codorus, Heidelberg and Penn. was issued on Monday by the state livestock board at Harrisburg. This is said to be the most extensive order of the kind in Pennsylvania. Today a temporary order was placed in Adams County over the territory covered by the mad dog of ten days ago.

In compliance with instructions from the state board, Dr. W. L. Herbert, representing the state livestock sanitary board, and Special Officer H. B. Kain, of the York branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals traced the route Monday taken by the dog which was killed Sunday a week ago near Gettysburg and is known to have had rabies. The territory from York to within four miles of Hanover was covered Monday and the following notice of quarantine from State Veterinarian C. J. Marshall served upon the owners of dogs:

"You are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of the Act of May 21, 1895, and the regulations of the state livestock sanitary board, you are required to isolate and place in quarantine all dogs in your possession or in your keeping and on your premises, under suspicion of having been exposed to the disease known as rabies, a contagious or infectious disease. This quarantine remains in force 100 days from the date hereof or until it is revoked by authority of the state livestock board."

At Hanover Chief Burgess Sheely has taken personal direction of the quarantine. Six dogs that were known to have been bitten were killed and a quarantine of all dogs under suspicion was ordered.

Dr. Herbert and Special Officer Kain this morning quarantined the territory from Hanover to Gettysburg.

The York dog catcher, John Hickey, was so severely bitten upon both wrists Monday morning by a vicious collie dog that he was compelled to go off duty and have his injuries treated. The dog escaped.

THE SPOUL HIGHWAY BILL

PASSES HOUSE BY BIG VOTE

The Spoul main highway bill was passed finally Monday night in the House by a unanimous vote—200 to 0—and the Spoul resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution so that a bond issue of $50,000,000 can be provided for the carrying out of the plans of the highway bill, was passed by a vote of 182 to 6. The highway bill will go to the Senate so that the amendments can be concurred in.

When the bond issue measure was taken up Mr. Aitman, Juniata, asked for information that would show why such an issue should be made. He made a speech in which he favored saving the interest that would have to be paid on these bonds and using it on good roads.

MRS. TAFT IMPROVES; PRESIDENT RETURNS

Physician Says She Can Follow Him Thursday.

New York, May 16. — President Taft returned to Washington after being assured that Mrs. Taft was better and would herself go back to the White House in a very few days.

Dr. Evans visited Mrs. Taft twice at the home of Henry W. Taft. When he left her he said that if her condition continued to improve as it had been doing, and he saw no reason why it should not, she could go to Washington on Thursday. Miss Helen Taft will stay at Henry W. Taft's home as long as her mother does and will accompany her home when she goes.

Mrs. Taft spent the day in bed, it being explained that although her illness was not at all serious she needed plenty of rest.

Henry L. Stimson, who is to be secretary of war, called on the president before Mr. Taft left his brother's house. They talked about war department matters. Mr. Stimson was to have been sworn in Monday, but the ceremony was postponed until next Monday.

DIAZ GIVES IN TO REBEL TERMS

Negotiations For Peace to be Renewed.

THE PLANS AGREED UPON

Insurrectos Are to Be Given Fourteen Governors and Four Cabinet Members—Resignation of Diaz Not to Be Pressed.

El Paso, Texas, May 16.—Everybody is in good humor in Juarez and El Paso. Unless there is a slip in the machinery peace will be declared within a few hours.

Information from Mexico City is that peace plans have been agreed upon and that President Diaz is willing to concede the fourteen governors out of twenty-seven states and four out of eight cabinet members demanded by the insurrectos. The matter of the resignation of Diaz is not to be pressed.

After the storm of Saturday, beginning with General Orozco's demands on Madero, and the temporary arrest of the provisional president and ending with General Navarro's dramatic escape to El Paso when the mob cried for his life, all was peaceful in Juarez.
Orozco, the soldier, and Madero, the political leader, have kissed and made up, literally hugging each other, as proof.

The question still agitating the insurrectos is when General Rabago is coming from the south with federal troops to retake Juarez. It is declared in Juarez that Orozco with more than 2000 men would march to meet the federal forces, departing as soon as possible. Orozco himself now is eager for the march and is happy at the prospect of a fight with his ancient enemy, Rabago.

Orozco will be in actual charge of the movement, assisted by Lieutenant Colonel Villa and other commanders.

Minister Expects Peace Soon.

Mexico City, May 16.—Peace again loomed big on the horizon of Mexico's internal affairs and led Foreign Minister de la Barra, as he started for the national palace at an early hour, to remark:

"We believe that we are making great progress toward peace."

The minister appeared to be happy notwithstanding that peace as yet was not in the proposal from the revolutionary camp may mean his elimination from the government.

Rebels Denounce Madero.

Laredo, Tex., May 16.—When news that Madero and the federal government might renew peace negotiations came here the noisy insurrecto sympathizers in Laredo and the secretly treacherous ones across the river in Nuevo Laredo were unanimous in saying that they didn't want peace and would not abide by any terms that Madero might accept. Already the Laredo Mexicans are saying that Madero is a traitor. They want no more of him. They prefer fighting men like Orozco. Still these people believe that Nuevo Laredo will be attacked and taken by the De los Santos brothers.

LOSS BIG IN FOREST FIRES

Flames Sweep State Reserves in Six Counties.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 16.—"State forestry reserves have been damaged by fires in six counties, and unless rain comes soon there will be heavy loss," said State Forestry Commissioner Robert S. Conklin, upon his return from a tour of inspection of state reserves in Clinton, Union and Franklin counties. Continuing, he said:

"The counties where fires have damaged state lands are Lycoming, Tioga, Clearfield, Pike, Monroe and Clinton.
The worst fires have been in Lycoming county, where the Pine Creek region has suffered seriously, and in the Tangascontee creek and Bakers run regions of Clinton county.

"In Clinton about 40,000 acres have been burned over, including 4000 acres of state lands. The fires are still in progress, and it is impossible to make any estimate of the damage.

"The fire, which burned about 400 acres of state land in the Mont Alto region, has been put out and there is no fire in the Cumberland valley district, though I am informed there are some razing in Maryland."

The department's rangers and wardens are all on duty in the sections where fires prevail, and in addition eighteen students from the Mont Alto State Forest academy are assisting in fighting the fires.

Excitement of Fire Kills Woman.

Rochester, N. Y., May 16.—Shock and excitement, incident to a fire that did $30,000 damage to the Puritan Soap company's plant here, caused the

A NEW BACK for an OLD ONE—HOW it is DONE IN GETTYSBURG

The back aches at times with a dull, indiscribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Gettysburg citizen.

Mrs. C. W. Culp, 423 S. Washington Street, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have greater faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today than when I publicly recommended them two years ago. A member of my family had kidney trouble, and as the result of an attack of the measles. Backache caused much suffering and there were pains in the side which made lifting an impossibility. The kidney secretions were also unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured at the People's Drug Store and their use was followed by great relief. I advise anyone afflicted with kidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS

Q. I wish to kill the germ in eggs so people cannot buy them at the store for incubation. Does it hurt an egg to run a pin through the large end, to grease the egg or to dip the end in hot water? A. Yes. By the first you often break the yolk and spoil the egg; by the second the grease gets rancid and the egg decays and the shell looks old; by the third the albumen gets hard and stale and egg rots. To destroy the hatchability without spoiling egg, take egg in hand with point to palm and go through stunt of throwing a ball.
This breaks supports of yolk and turns germ upside down.

Q. How many ducks should I mate to an India Runner drake, what is their standard weight, how should I make their nests? A. Four to six; drake 4½ pounds, duck 4. They lay on ground or in water.

Q. My Cochins have very large livers, and I have lost a cock and three hens by it. What breed is most subject to it?
What are the cause and cure? A. Heavy breeds, overfeeding and lack of exercise. Feed little, make hens work hard for every grain and use one tablespoonful of sodium sulphate to every pint of water.

Q. How much sunflower seed should be fed to thirty fowls and when is the best time to feed it? A. One quart.
Feed it mostly in molting season, as it is a feather former. Much of it should not be fed to layers, as it is fattening.

Q. My Plymouth Rocks when matured do not reach standard within a pound or two. Please give me a ration whereby I may bring them to standard weight or over. A. Size in your fowls depends more on breeding than feeding. With the best of feed fowls have a limit. Breed from your largest birds or, if they are all under size, introduce new blood by crossing with big hens from outside or do away with old stock and start a new.

GOMPERS RAPS TAFT'S HARRISBURG SPEECH

Says He Takes Rights From Government Clerks.

Washington, May 16.—"No officer of the government is warranted in the issuance of an order in conflict with the inherent, constitutional rights of the citizen," said President Gompers, commenting on President Taft's speech at Harrisburg, Pa.

Mr. Gompers declared that President Taft's order forbids associations among government employees and the right of petition to congress and that the postoffice department has "discharged and victimized men because they dared unite in a lawful association and petition for redress of grievances."

Insisting that President Taft is wholly mistaken in his idea of the methods for the betterment of the condition of employees of the government, Mr. Gompers says that since men in the pay of the government cannot resist to the strike, as workmen in private establishments, when necessary, their only means of presenting their needs of grievances is through petition for administrative or legislative action.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true. If no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of sturdy people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandmothers used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

A patient called upon Dr. Rice and asked for a diagnosis of his ailment. He said that he was suffering, but could not locate the malady. Dr. Rice began his part by demanding $10 of the patient. Then he proceeded with the examination. After submitting the patient to the usual tests he said: "I don't like to alarm you unnecessarily, but I find that you are in a bad way. While I do not abandon hope of being able to help you, I deem it proper to advise you to settle your financial affairs."

To which the patient replied, "Doc, you did that when you took the $10."

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

KNOCK-OUT BLOW FOR OIL TRUST

Supreme Court Orders Standard Company to Dissolve.

MODIFICATION IN DECREE

Six Months Instead of Thirty Days Allowed For Breaking Up of Combination Guilty of Conspiracy and Monopoly in Restraint of Trade.

Washington, May 16.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey must dissolve. This was the decision of the supreme court of the United States. In a decision delivered by Chief Justice White the government won its long and hard fought dissolution case brought under the Sherman anti-trust law in that the Standard Oil company was guilty of conspiracy and monopoly in restraint of trade. The decree of the lower court was affirmed, but was modified in particulars, which Chief Justice White said were very slight indeed.

Associate Justice Harlan announced a dissenting opinion.

Chief Justice White began the delivery of the opinion, but before the findings of the court were reached he read a great part of a 25,000 word review of the litigation and the evidence. This kept the crowd of eminent lawyers and government officials in the court room in suspense.

The decree of the lower court was modified so that there need not be "an absolute cessation of interstate commerce in petroleum and its products by such vast agencies as are embraced in the combination, a result which might arise from that portion of the decree which enjoined carrying on of interstate commerce not only by the New Jersey corporation, but by all of the subsidiary companies until the dissolution of the combination by the transfer of the stocks in accordance with the decree."

The court also extended the time from one to six months in which the dissolution must take place.

Probably the most important proposition of law laid down in the opinion was that the words in the statute "every restraint of trade" are not to be literally construed, but are to be construed in the light of reason.

On this point the court held that the position of the government that the supreme court had decided that any qualification of this phrase was precluded by previous decisions of the supreme court was erroneous.

Of the first two modifications the language of the chief justice's conclusion was:

"We construe the sixth paragraph of the decree not as depriving the stockholders or corporation of the right to live under the law of the land, but as compelling obedience to the law. As therefore the sixth paragraph as thus construed is not amenable to the criticisms suggested that was obviously right.

"We think that in view of the magnitude of the interests involved and their complexity that the delay of thirty days allowed for executing the decree was too short, and should be extended so as to embrace a period of at least six months.

"So also, in view of the possible serious injury to result to the public from absolute cessation of interstate commerce in petroleum and its products by such vast agencies as are embraced in the combination, a result which might arise from that portion of the decree which enjoined the carrying on of interstate commerce not only by the New Jersey corporation, but all the subsidiary companies, until dissolution of the combination by the transfer of the stocks in accordance with the decree should not have been awarded."

TRUST'S ASSETS $600,000,000

Paid Dividends of $40 a Share For Past Seven Years.

New York, May 15.—Representatives of the Standard Oil company in this city refused to comment in any way whatsoever on the decision handed down by the supreme court.

It has been estimated that the assets of the Standard Oil company, which the highest court has now ordered to be dissolved, amount to $600,000,000 in plants and properties. Since the company took over the stocks of the various subsidiaries it has never issued annual reports and its earnings have never been made public, except when brought out in court proceedings.

For the last seven years it has paid dividends of $40 a share. In 1909 and 1901 it paid $48 a share. Its lowest dividend was 35 per cent in 1904. These dividends were paid on an outstanding capitalization of $98,338,000.

Trust Declares $9,000,000 Dividend.

New York, May 16.—The Standard Oil company declared the regular quarterly dividend of $9 per share due at this time of year. The declaration calls for a disbursement of $9,000,000 to the stockholders.

ROOSEVELT NOT AFTER PRESIDENCY

Asks Friends Not to Start Movement For Him.

Omaha, Neb., May 16.—Theodore Roosevelt has asked the Progressive Republican League of Nebraska not to place him in nomination for the presidency next year, and in addition to saying he will be very much embarrassed should his request go unheeded, he calls upon his friends to discourage and prevent any such movement.

All this information was contained in a letter written by Mr. Roosevelt and received in Omaha. The letter was written to Mr. Franklin Shotwell, leader of the Progressive Republican League of Nebraska.

Mr. Roosevelt does not, however, state that he will not eventually be a candidate. Last week Mr. Shotwell, in the name of the league, wrote to Colonel Roosevelt telling him the league desired to place his name upon the ticket in November for presidential nominee of the Republican party and asked his approval of the movement. Mr. Shotwell called attention that western Republicans, and especially Nebraskans, looked upon Roosevelt as the only progressive Republican who could secure the nomination. Colonel Roosevelt's answer was as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Shotwell—I thank you for your letter and very sincerely appreciate your good feeling. You say that you do not wish to embarrass me. Any such movement as that you suggest would very deeply embarrass me and I must insist that you and my other friends I have shall do all in their power to prevent any such movement."

SENATE DEADLOCK HOLDS

Another Fruitless Effort Made to Elect a President Pro Tempore.

Washington, May 16.—Continuation of the deadlock in the attempt to elect a president pro tempore of the senate became apparent when the first ball lot resulted in no choice.

Senator Gallinger, the Republican caucus nominee, polled thirty-three votes; his Democratic opponent, Senator Bacon, the same number, while six progressive Republicans voted for Senator Clapp.

A second ballot was similar to the first, and despairing of breaking the deadlock the senate abandoned the effort and took up for consideration the joint resolution providing for the election of senators by direct vote.

Asks $250,000 Riot Damages.

Trenton, N. J., May 16.—Edward T. Platt, treasurer of the United States Express company brought suit in the supreme court here against the mayor and aldermen of Jersey City in an effort to recover $250,000 damages as the result of rioting during the express drivers' strike last October. The company charges that the mayor and police failed to suppress the mob from rioting. The municipality is held responsible for the damage done the company's property during the riots.

NO JAIL FOR LABOR LEADERS

Sentence For Contempt Reversed by U. S. Supreme Court.

OFFENCE NOT CRIMINAL

District of Columbia Judges Are Reversed and Entire Proceedings Sent Back to Be Dismissed.

Washington, May 16.—Samuel Gompers, president; John Mitchell, vice president, and Frank Morrison, secretary, of the American Federation of Labor, will not go to jail.

This was the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the labor contempt cases in which the three labor leaders were sentenced to prison.

The case grew out of the boycott of the Bucks Stove and Range company, of St. Louis, and the proceedings brought by that company against the three labor leaders for speeches and articles published in the American Federationist.

Setting aside the sentences of imprisonment imposed by the supreme court of the District of Columbia, the supreme court of the United States held that Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison had been erroneously sentenced.

By the finding of the lower court Gompers had been sentenced to one year in jail, Mitchell to nine months and Morrison to six months.

Justice Lamar delivered the court's decision.

Not a Criminal Case.

The court unanimously held that the only sentences that could be imposed upon the labor leaders were fines. In so holding the court found that the court of appeals of the District of Columbia and the supreme court of the District of Columbia erred in treating the contempt proceedings as a criminal case and not a civil one. The effect of holding the proceedings a civil one was to make jail sentences impossible. Hence the jail sentences had to be set aside.

To correct the error the case was sent back to the local courts with direction that it be dismissed. At the same time the court expressly made it possible for civil proceedings to be instituted against the labor men by the Bucks Stove and Range company.

ARE YOU FREE FROM—

Headaches, Colds, Indigestion, Pains, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Dizziness? If you are not, the most effective, prompt and pleasant method of getting rid of them is to take, now and then, a desertsportful of the ever refreshing and truly beneficial laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known throughout the world as the best of family laxative remedies, because it acts so gently and strengthens naturally without irritating the system in any way.

To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., bearing the name of the Company, plainly printed on the front of every package.

at whose instance the original contempt case was brought.

Inasmuch as all the differences between the labor men and the Bucks Stove and Range company have been adjudicated, including the "boycott" case out of which the contempt proceedings arose, new civil proceedings are considered highly improbable, and the decision is probably the last that will be heard of this famous action.

The court was led to hold that the contempt proceedings in this case must be civil in nature, because criminal punishment is exercised by court to force persons to do acts commanded. In the present case the court took the view that the labor men were being sent to jail, not to make them do something the court ordered, but because of "something they had done."

Wanted Principle Settled.

Samuel Gompers returned from New York, and said he was gratified that the supreme court had reversed the decision of the lower tribunal, but he added:

"I am disappointed that the court did not decide the principle in contention in the proceeding. I believe it to me the consensus of opinion everywhere that the sentences of six, nine and twelve months imposed on Morrison, Mitchell and myself were unjustified, unusual and cruel, particularly in an alleged constructive contempt and that the judge's language was intemperate and unjudicial."

Mr. Gompers said that the Bucks Stove and Range company and the Federation now were on good terms and he did not believe the company would take advantage of the opening for civil action made for them by the supreme court.

Reunited After Forty Years.

Pittsburg, Kan., May 16.—Separated by the Chicago fire in 1871, Peter C. Sharp, of this place, and his wife, Anna Catherine Sharp, of Oakland, Cal., will be reunited here this week. The ending of the forty years' search by Mrs. Sharp was brought about by application to the pension office at Washington, where she learned that her husband, an old soldier, had married again. She wrote to Sharp and he replied, asking her to come and make her home with him and his second wife.

Despondent Woman a Suicide.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 16.—Despondent from ill health, Mrs. Joseph O. Main, wife of former City Controller Main, committed suicide by jumping from a ridge into Mehoopany creek. Pinned to her shawl, which the woman left on the bridge, was the following note: "I jumped into the creek because I was crazy."

New Head at Indianapolis.

Annapolis, Md., May 16.—Captain John H. Gibbons assumed the superintendency of the United States naval academy. Captain John M. Bowyer was forced by ill health to relinquish the post.

VERY HUMAN.

I've seen some roosters make me think Of fellows I have met. They do not seem to care enough To come in out the wet.

Some others are so nasty proud That, though they crawl with lice, They will not get down in the dust, Because they are too nice.

Some crowd about themselves all day, But never work a rap. While others wear their whiskers off Out hunting for a scrap.

Some when their hen has laid an egg Like a big jackass bray, "There, see that egg! Now will you say A rooster doesn't pay?"

Yes, when wife labors hard all day To provide needed corn Some skip with an affinity And leave her all forlorn.

Some root in ugly fifth all day And even swallow rot And, like all human muckrakers, Should have some big duck shot. C. M. BARNITZ.

Graceful and Attractive Women

If you are thin and want to be plump; if you have wrinkles in your face that you are not proud of, if your skin is sallow or subject to pimples or blackheads take MI-O-NA stomach tablets for two weeks and notice the change.

Nine tenths of the thin people are thin because the stomach is not active; it is not mixing thoroughly with the natural digestive juices the food put into it, and consequently is not extracting from the food enough nourishment matter for the blood to distribute to every part of the body. If the stomach does not do its work properly the nourishment in the food you eat is passed along without giving to the body any flesh building elements.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets quickly build up the stomach so that it extracts from the food all the elements necessary to form good solid flesh.

If you are thin try a two weeks treatment of MI-O-NA stomach tablets; two with each meal will work wonders.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets are guaranteed to cure indigestion acute or chronic, or money back. Sold by People's Drug

INDIGESTION

An Interesting Statement.
Portland, Me.—"I suffered so long with indigestion and stomach trouble that I lost flesh rapidly—I had used all kinds of remedies without help. Vinol was recommended and I decided to try it.

"I soon commenced to feel better.
My stomach trouble disappeared and I can eat heartily without the slightest distress. My experience leads me to believe that no other medicine equals Vinol for stomach troubles and indigestion. It tones up the stomach, increases the appetite and creates strength." W. E. Waterhouse. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

Vinol seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the digestive organs, and remove the cause of indigestion and soon enables the sufferer to digest with ease the foods that once caused distress. Moreover Vinol is delicious to the taste contains no oil and does not upset weak stomachs, as do old-fashioned cod liver and emulsions.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

HER EGGS HIGHEST YET.

Aeroplaning Men Produces Them In the Air Every Day.

An up to date bantam hen residing near New York has taken to aviation, but combines business and sport. To say she lays while she flies sounds paradoxical, but is true.

A rustic hanging basket in her mistress' grape arbor was spied by the aspiring bantam one day last week.
She flew up and the impetus she gave the basket set it swinging like a pendulum. The hen enjoyed the flight in the monoplane so greatly that she paid her fare by depositing an egg in the basket.

Since then she has taken a flight every day and has laid an egg every time.

Omelets are light as air when made from these aerial eggs. Biddy's owner intends to raise chickens in mid-atmosphere, as she thinks they might bring high prices.

Female Supremacy.

A 1,000 pound steer goes to the block and that is the end of him, but only a fairly good dairy cow will produce several times her own weight in milk each year and keep it up during her entire active life. What is the answer?

The wise farmer plans his summer time work in the midst of cold weather.

Orchard and Garden.

Scatter wood ashes through the orchard, especially on the sandy parts.

If you are not using any system of cover crops keep the orchard well cultivated for two reasons, to keep down weeds and to conserve the soil moisture.

Rough, stormy weather should be utilized in preparing the frames and in replacing broken glass in the hot-bed and cold frame sash. It is desirable to paint sash at least every other year.

If the orchard is an old one with trees headed high let the chickens run in it and disk frequently, at least twice in three weeks. This will not only cultivate, but also furnishes a good scratching place for the chickens.

If the orchard is young it should, of course, be headed low. In this case work under the trees with an extension frame harrow. This harrow has a frame which may be extended so as to throw the discs out to the sides.
This tool may be used as an ordinary harrow or may be used to straddle rows and is a very useful tool for the horticulturist.

Look for borers in the trunks of the young peach trees. If you find holes with gum exuding, either dig out the borer or kill him by thrusting a piece of wire into the hole and twisting it around. Examine all grafts and remove any branches which might switch them loose, if the scions are growing cut away all the suckers which have started around the edges of the cut.

[This matter must not be reprinted without special permission.]

THE PEAR BLIGHT.

Considering the fact that there is probably no menace to apple and pear orchards that is so serious as pear blight, it will be well to be on the lookout for it as soon as the sap begins to flow, as the blight in question is a bacterial disease of the sap. It is especially important to see that all hold-over cases—that is, cases in which the germs have kept alive during the winter season—are cut out before the sap begins to run so as to prevent their becoming sources of a spread of the disease by bees and other insects to the blossoms and tender twigs of other trees of the same family. The presence of dangerous cases of blight is indicated by a dark colored and sweet-ish tasting ooze or sap which exudes from the cambium layer through the bark. The bees visit these places, very naturally, get their feet smeared with myriads of the bacteria and as a result are likely to infect a majority of the blossoms which they visit in the course of a day. In view of the fact that bees often cover a territory included in a radius of two miles, the possibility of a spread of the blight will thus be seen to be very great and emphasizes the necessity of destroying completely and thoroughly every hold-over case. The wild hawthorn and crab, belonging as they do to the pome-raceae, may be sources of early infection, and if such trees are in the neighborhood they should be inspected. Later on if trees in the orchard are found to be infected through the bloss-som in the manner indicated the only preventive measure known is cutting out with a knife well below the point of infection all diseased branches and limbs. After each cutting both the wound and knife should be sterilized with a one-one-thousandth solution of corrosive sublimate (mercuric chloride), which is a deadly poison, and at the close of the day the parts cut away should be burned. By careful cutting a tree can often be saved even though the blight has got into the trunk or has reached down into the roots. The fighting of the blight will be greatly simplified and the damage from it lessened if all water sprouts are kept cut away well up into the head of the tree as it is through these that infection is most often as well as most quickly carried to the main limbs and trunk.

BUYING ALFALFA LAND.

There are many sections in the south where alfalfa will do well, and it goes without saying that land which will grow the legume is worth a good price. Notwithstanding this there are some facts in connection with the growing of alfalfa which it is well to take into account. One of these is that it will not do well on land that is not well drained, which means that a lot of land which is being sold to northern buyers as prime alfalfa land will not be worth a continental for this purpose until it is drained.
Neither will alfalfa do well over a hardpan of any kind which comes too near the surface nor on a stiff clay subsoil. Weather conditions which are likely to prevail during the making of the hay should also be taken into account, rain and heavy dews being very detrimental to a good quality of hay. For this reason the drier or irrigated sections of the west and southwest are preferable for alfalfa growing. We are led to make the above remarks as the result of a conversation with a friend who recently was shown a lot of alfalfa land in a southern state where the holes dug by lands crabs were visible in every direction. This simple fact showed that the water was too near the surface to make successful alfalfa growing possible.

RICE GROWING.

Northern readers of these notes will be interested in how rice is raised in the southern states. A loam soil with a good mixture of clay is considered best suited to this cereal, while the other conditions which make good rice land are possibility of irrigation, complete drainage and a solidity at harvest time to permit the operation of heavy machinery. Rice land is prepared for the seed as in the case of other cereals, and the best results are had with the drill, from one and a half to two bushels of seed being used per acre. When the rice plants are five or six inches high the field is flooded with water to a depth of from one to six inches. The water is kept on the field until the rice gets in the dough, which is from ten to twenty days before it is ripe. The field is then drained by open ditches and allowed to dry, after which the rice is cut, shocked and threshed, as in the case of wheat or oats. In the last named step the speed of the cylinders is reduced to prevent cracking or breaking the grain. The rice is known as "paddy" as it comes from the machine and is then taken to the mill, where it is hulled and polished.

Told Him the News.

Lord Dufferin when he was a young man in Dublin always used a certain jaunting car driven by an old Irishman, who, however, did not know the name of his patron. "Well, Pat," said Dufferin one fine morning, "what is the news today?" "I don't think of anything, sir," was Pat's reply. Then as an afterthought, "Yes, they do say that that one-eyed Dufferin is going to marry Kate Hamilton."

NIPPED IN THE BUD

The Story of a Mexican Revolution

By JOHN GALLAGHER, JR.

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The Mexican army was assembled on the plain outside the capital for maneuvers. Captain Fernandez Cardoza had just come into his tent from battalion drill when a messenger summoned him to the president's tent.
Cardoza obeyed the order immediately.

"Captain," said his excellency, having satisfied himself that there was no one about to hear him, "I have received information of a plot to carry these troops over to General Jose Furtado, depose me and make him president in my stead. I have another force, loyal to me, thirty miles from here, which if present would turn the scales in my favor. I have ordered these troops to march at once, but it will be impossible for them to get here before tomorrow night. I am desirous not only of delay, but of concealing my knowledge of the plot from my enemies. You I know I can trust to aid me, and I have an especial matter for you to attend to."

Cardoza stood without reply. He was bound in honor to the president, but one thing stood in his way—he loved the daughter of the man who was plotting to control Mexico.

"Are you heart and soul for me?"
asked the president, eying the captain.

"I am."
"Very well. Just before daybreak a signal will be given for the troops encamped here for certain brigades hostile to me to rise. A force will be sent to my tent to dispatch me, while others proclaim Furtado president. I wish you to prevent the signal being given.
A cannon is to be left loaded without the guard line of the Third brigade with a primer in the vent. Some one at the first gray light of dawn will pull the lanyard. I wish you to prevent that signal gun being fired. Conceal yourself near by and dispatch silently whoever attempts it."

"Your excellency's order shall be obeyed."

Captain Cardoza that night emerged from his tent, passed beyond the guards and, making a detour, came upon the rear of the Third brigade.
There on a small natural mound a cannon mingled with the gloom. Cardoza lay down in some bushes beside the piece and waited. It was with difficulty that he could keep awake.
Indeed, shortly after midnight he fell asleep, but he slept lightly, so that a slight stirring of bushes on the other side of the gun awakened him and he started up.

The moon had risen and shone on the cannon and a figure standing by
it. No man stood there, but a woman, and though the moon was waning, it gave enough light to enable Cardoza to see her face distinctly. He recognized Marina Furtado, the daughter of the man who was conspiring to be president.

"Marina!" he gasped.

She started.

"Fernand! Is that you?"
"You are not going to fire that gun?"
"I am."

"One moment. I wish to speak with you."

He sprang toward her, and she seized the lanyard. He stood holding a knife above her head.

"For heaven's sake, don't pull that cord. At the slightest movement I shall bring the knife down upon you."

"You, Fernand! You would kill the girl you love and who loves you?"

"Honor compels me. I am pledged to prevent you."

"And my pledge to my father obliges me. He would trust no other."

"Fire at your peril!"

She looked into his face and saw by the light of the moon that his resolution was taken.

"I thought you loved me?" she said.
"I do, but I love my honor more."

The two stood gazing at one another. Slowly the arm that held the lanyard sank, and the cord dropped from her hand. Then her lover took her in his arms, and she fainted on his breast.

When she recovered they formed a plan. He was to return to the president and report that no man had attempted to fire the signal gun. She was to return to her father and tell him what had occurred.

At 6 o'clock in the morning Captain Cardoza entered the president's tent.
He found the head of the republic pale and anxious. He had not slept during the night.

"Well?" asked his excellency.

"You are, of course, aware that the gun was not fired. Perhaps the information you received was false—perhaps was intended to injure General Furtado."

"I cannot think so."

At that moment General Furtado rode up to the president's tent, dismounted and entered.

"I have understood your excellency," he said, "that I am accused of conspiracy against the government."

"I have been informed to that effect."

"I will not deny that there is dissatisfaction as to some of your recent acts. If you will satisfy your people in this respect I can control the army in your favor and will do so."

"State them."

General Furtado left the president his ardent supporter, and the revolution had been nipped in the bud. But it was the lovers who had made the change. Captain Cardoza had prevented the signal from being given, and Marina had won her father over to the plan of action he had adopted.

on the job was remonstrated with by the manager of his bureau as follows:
"Why, they tell me that down at Johnsonburg you lectured two hours. That's too long. The committee says that more than half your audience left before you were nearly through."

"Well, let me tell you," protested the new lecturer, "you told me when you started me out that I should make it a rule to quit while the audience wanted me. And I'll be hanged if I saw any signs of their wanting more at any time, so I just kept on."—Chicago Record-Herald.

WORK OF ROAD RESURFACING.

Different Methods by Which It Can Be Done.

PENETRATING AND MIXING.

Where the Traffic is Not Excessively Heavy a Mixture of Sand With Heavy Asphaltic Oil Makes Good Road in a Locality Where Sand or Sandy Gravel Prevails.

One of the big problems that confronts roadbuilders today is the resurfacing of the highways when the first sign of wear becomes noticeable.

The voids may be filled by either the penetration or the mixing method. Under the penetration method the second course is laid and rolled lightly, after which heavy asphaltic oil is applied, preferably by means of spraying machines, using sufficient quantity to fill all the voids, but not to flush the surface.

Stone screenings or coarse sand are then applied over the whole and thoroughly compacted. The thickness of this course is ordinarily about two inches and requires about two gallons to the square yard of surface.

Under the mixing method the second course of stone is first coated with the bituminous material and is then spread to such depth that it will be about two inches thick after rolling.

The additional cost of a road constructed by the penetration method is about 14 cents and by the mixing method about 20 cents per square yard above the cost of the ordinary water-bound macadam road, both of these estimates being based on the use of a heavy residuum oil.

For Heavy Traffic.

In cases where the traffic is extremely varied and heavy loads are transported it is preferable to use a nearly pure asphalt, in which case the additional cost is about 25 cents per square yard.

The above methods are also used for resurfacing old macadam roads, the method of procedure being practically the same as in constructing new roads.
If the old road is worn badly and contains irregular holes the low places or holes are patched with stone only or with stone and oil combined, tamped and rolled into place, after which the new top course is placed.

Another method of resurfacing worn-out macadam roads is to mix heavy asphaltic oil and gravel, then spreading the mixture on the road to such depth that it will be about two inches in thickness after rolling. This method has been used in Massachusetts with the greatest success, and some roads that were treated by this method two years ago show absolutely no change at the present time and are in perfect condition.

In connection with this gravel and oil treatment it may be well to mention the fact that it has been found in Massachusetts that where traffic is not excessively heavy a mixture of sand with heavy asphaltic oil makes an economical and efficient road surface in localities where sand or sandy gravel prevail, and stone is difficult to obtain.

Cape Cod Road.

Six years ago a road of this description was built on Cape Cod, and it is today in better condition than it was the year it was finished.

Similar work has been carried on in several localities where sand prevails, and it has been found that where the work is properly done the results are excellent.

Several roads of this description are now under construction in Massachusetts, the entire cost of the roads, including the small amount of necessary grading, being only about 30 cents per square yard.

Another method adopted in Massachusetts for surface construction is to place about five inches of sandy gravel on the roads and compact the same as much as possible, and then apply heavy asphaltic oil, using about three-fourths of a gallon to the square yard, covering it with just sufficient sandy gravel to take up the surplus oil. The oil furnishes the binder that is lacking in the sandy gravel, and the completed road presents a smooth, hard surface that is hardly distinguishable from a surface composed of stone and oil.

In Massachusetts very comprehensive experiments have been tried with all methods of treatment of the road surfaces, experimenting with practically every material that has been offered, in all cases having sufficient chemical and physical analysis made of the binding material used in order that any method or material found to be satisfactory may be duplicated and to avoid repeating unsatisfactory construction.

In the selection of the strength, the tensile and tensile are very desirable.
Possessing these, they will stand the racket when put in the ground.
